BLOOMFIELD BRIEF LOCALS.

—Morton Post G. A. R. is making preparations for holding a picnic.

—The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will be held in the rooms of the Association next Monday afternoon, June 6th, at 3 o'clock.

—We have at this office a large number of the new 8, ring and Summer catalogues issued by L. S. Plant & Co. (Boo Hive) Persons desiring one can procure it by calling at this office.

—The new store of Messrs Schenker & Lehman opens to day, see advertisement in another column.

—Mr. Eugene L. Lockwood, son of Dr. V. L. Lockwood of this town, graduated from Columbia College Law School, New York, last week.

—The parade on Decoration Day furnished the citizens with an opportunity of forming an opinion as to which company ought to have the pictures now on exhibition at Taylor's store. An opportunity will be given to confirm your opinion on the 7, 8, and 9th. Vote early and often.

A "CONCERT GRAND,"—may be seen at Dodd's Hall. A "Weber"—list price $1,400. This instrument has been used at concerts in New York, but is in perfect order, price $400 and is warranted for five years. Address ROBERT PEELE, Bloomfield.

—Citizens dwelling in the neighborhood of Bloomfield avenue and Orange and those living in the neighborhood of Prospect and Myrtle streets complain of the numerous nightly brawls, which take place in those vicinities and the unusual number of drunken men who infest the neighborhood on Sundays. The day is evidently fast approaching when the Knight of the Shield and Club will be wanted in municipal affairs.

—On Tuesday evening, June 7th, the Young Men's Catholic Union will formally open their new house, and desire to have all their well wishers in the town to call and inspect the rooms on that evening. The Rev. Bishop of the Diocese is expected to be present. We are assured that the house is worthy of a visit and it is hoped the invitation will be generally accepted.

—There will be a long list of attractions at the fair of Excelsior Hose Company, on the 7, 8 and 9th of June, and any persons wishing to spend an enjoyable evening or to secure some "bargains" will do well to visit them at Sprague's Pavilion. There will be a long line of fancy articles, bric-a-brac, etc. which will be sold very low. The company will use the proceeds of this fair to help pay for their hose house, now being erected on Broad street. No intoxicating drinks will be sold.

Mr. Carl's Recital.

Mr. William C. Carl and pupils gave a private recital in the Lecture room of the First Presbyterian church of Newark, Wednesday evening of this week with pronounced success. The pupils show a proficiency seldom seen. The programme embraced selections from Haydn, Handel, Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Wagner, Grieg, etc. Mr. Carl's selection was the Gounod-Lied "Faust Waltz," and the following pupils from Bloomfield took part: Misses Anna M. Ensslin, Margaret Johnston, Alice Hubbell, Annie Van Tassel, Sarah E. Davis, R. A. Baird, Master Irving Meeker and Mr. Wm. J. Maier. The soloists were Mrs. A. W. Bray, soprano and Mr. H. C. Williams, tenor.

Lodges and Societies.

The recently refurbished room occupied by Bloomfield Lodge F. and A. M., was open for inspection on Decoration Day. A new velvet Brussels carpet of buff color and handsome pattern, covers the floor. The wall paper is of a design very appropriate for lodge room purposes. The painted ceiling with its electric colors and cornice work done in variegated colors, trimmed with gilt, adds greatly to the attractive character of the room. A bronze chandelier with one dozen burners furnishes abundance of light. All the furniture in the room has been upholstered and renovated. The official chairs are covered with luxuriant blue plush. Blue chenille curtains, suspended over the principal chair are drawn back in folds and fastened by ornamental bands. An altar carved in an artistic manner, highly finished and covered with a marble top, stands in the center of the room. Upon this is laid a beautiful blue velvet altar cloth, on the overhanging sides of which are painted in a bold and skillful manner, representative emblems of the order. A cushion covered with blue plush is placed before this stand.

The general appearance of the room is attractive and comfortable.

A picture encased in a handsome bronze frame, suspended to one of the side walls and which is of historical interest to all members of the order, has attached to it the following inscription: "Arms of the incorporated company of operative masons, granted to them by William Hawkshaw, Claremont, King at Arms, 1477 Temp. Henry VI. and adopted by the Grand Lodge of England at the revival in 1717, presented to Bloomfield Lodge F. and A. M. April 3d, 1887, by T. C. Frye, M. M., of Tuscan Lodge F. and A. M., Lawrence, Massachusetts."

Church Notes.

Dr. J. R. Berry of Montclair Presbyterian church, closes his labors with that church to-morrow morning after Communion. In the evening he will preach at the First Presbyterian church in Bloomfield, which will be his last sermon in this vicinity for some time.

Thirteen new members will be received into the First Presbyterian church to-morrow morning, composed chiefly of new residents in town.

The meeting at Hope Chapel last Sunday evening was largely attended and much interest manifested. The meeting to-morrow evening will be conducted by J. G. Broughton.

Meeting on Saturday evening at Association rooms. All are invited.

Real Estate Sales.

The sale of the following property has been effected through the office of Moore & Hayes, real estate agents, during the month of May:

The Caleb D. Baldwin property on Broad street, house and five acres, to Mr. Brown of Bloomfield.

The property on Broad street between the American House and the Post Office, 60 feet front, J. B. Harvey to W. M. Hopper.

On lot on Glenwood avenue to Mr. J. Roberts.

Watessing.

The people of this vicinity had the pleasure of witnessing both Bloomfield and East Orange parades on Decoration Day.

A prominent feature of the East Orange parade was the Board of Councilmen in carriages. Among the people living on Westcott street, there is some talk of setting apart a day for the dedication of the monument (of dirt) erected to the memory of the East Orange Sewerage Company, at the head of that street.

Active Hose Company are having their bell tower painted in colors—known in art as true to nature; that is, colors produced by the sun and rain. It is doubtful whether in the long run, this method of painting will prove as economical as a good covering of artificial stuff.

The sale and strawberry festival to be given under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of St. Paul's P. E. church Watessing will be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons and evenings of next week in the new stores on Dodd street near Prospect. The ladies have been busy some time and have received many donations from members of the congregation and friends of the parish which they will dispose of at moderate prices. Strawberries and cream will also be served. Festival open from 3 to 10 P. M. It is hoped that all those who are interested in the welfare of this little church will be present.

Flowers for the Sick.

Miss E. B. Whipple solicits contributions of flowers from any one who may feel disposed to send them to her for the Flower Mission in New York. As the season of flowers is once more upon us, and we enjoy their beauty and fragrance, it is well to be reminded of this praiseworthy charity. Many of our gardens will soon be overburdened with blossoms that may be spared without loss to the owners beyond a little time. How slight will be the trouble to gather them, and how great the reward if we but remember the pleasure these gifts of flowers must give at the hospitals where they are distributed among the sick. The reports of the mission tell many stories of the eagerness with which these poor people receive the flowers, and the good it does them just to look at them. The public school children remember Flower Mission Day and bring Miss Whipple large bouquets of flowers, but the supply never exceeds the demand. She will always be glad to receive flowers from any one interested in the mission, at her home at Mrs. Peck's, Sunday and Wednesday.

A SCHOLAR.

Red Riding-Hood. All good people of this town who are interested in seeing a well executed performance by children should attend the cantata of Little Red Riding-Hood, which will be given by the children of Miss Northall's school on June 10th, at Library Hall. Every one is familiar with the story of Little Red Riding-Hood and her adventures with the wolf and therefore a statement of what the cantata consists of would be no news. It is enough to say that this story will be sung by the children, who have been well trained under competent instructors. In addition to the cantata itself there will be the flower song, sung by children representing different flowers. To those who saw the performance of Cinderella given at the same place some time ago it is needless to say that the performance will be well worth seeing. Miss Northall proposes to devote the proceeds of the exhibition to Westminster church.

Third Grade: Katharine C. Hyde, Franklin M. Elizabeth Mattison, Milburn; Cora A. Miller, South Orange; Lizzie Ricalton Maplewood; Ida E. Robinson, Bloomfield; Helen M. Westervelt, Montclair; Cora M. Whitaker, Ashland, East Orange.

Obituary.

Susie C. Williams, daughter of Mr. John K. Williams, died at her home on Sunday, the 29th. Deceased graduated from the Bloomfield high school, in the class of 1884, and was a great favorite among her classmates. The funeral services were held in the First Presbyterian church, of which she was a member, on Wednesday afternoon, and were conducted by the pastor. There was a large attendance of friends, and unusual sympathy was manifested. Singing appropriate to the occasion was rendered by a volunteer chorus of young ladies, accompanied by Mrs. H. W. Ballantine on the organ.

Montgomery.

Matters in this neighborhood are as quiet and placid as the surface of the canal, which flows through this place.

On these beautiful summer mornings, the good citizen of Montgomery loves to rise early and walk around, to see how his neighbor's garden compares with his own. The $300 has been found. It has grown considerably in fifteen years. It is now able to contribute $180 more, which fact ought to furnish food for reflection to the people here.

The Y. M. C. A. of Bloomfield are making earnest efforts toward having a chapel built in this vicinity.

Services will be held in the school house Sunday evening, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. W. L. Gilbert, our School Clerk, has finished taking the census for this district, and reports 121 children between 5 and 18 years of age, being an increase of seven over last year.

Orange.

The Orange Board of Education held a regular meeting Friday evening. President Mann presided. The Superintendent reported the whole enrollment at the several schools to be 1,191; average enrollment 1,195; average daily attendance 1,083. At the reunion of the Society of the Potomac at Saratoga next month, an effort will be made to have the reunion next year held at Orange. There will be drawn to this city by the fact of this meeting, Generals Sherman, Sheridan and Slocum and other distinguished officers and ex-soldiers of the war, whom we are sure the citizens of Orange would highly delight to honor.

George J. Ferry, Jacob L. Halsey and Thomas Stoddard have been elected members of the Executive Committee of the Orange Law and Order League.

A stock company has been formed in Orange under the name of the Orange Hat Forming Company, for the purpose of forming hat bodies. The parties interested are the firm of Brennan & Co., several New York parties and one or two Orange men. Thomas F. Brennan is president of the company and James L. Carr is secretary and treasurer.

Comments of the Press on Good Roads.

Congressman Phelps has a strong prejudice in favor of good roads, and he never lets an opportunity slip to display this peculiar trait of character. No section of Bergen county has roads half so fine as the smooth highways and private thoroughfares (all open to the public) which skirt and run through Mr. Phelps' broad domain, the same being the garden spot of Jersey. At the late road meeting in this district $1,000 was voted, when Mr. Phelps announced that if the voters would increase the sum by $200, he would add $300 from his own pocket, and thus complete a piece of desired macadamizing. It was done. If the farmers could be brought to understand the value of good roads, and could be induced to keep the roadsides free from brush, they would be greatly benefited. Hackensack Republican.

If tenants are to be secured houses must be built: good roads and sidewalks must be laid, and every method of social enjoyment made to minister to the comfort and happiness of the newcomers. A live town will have many friends. A way ought to be found to provide them with pleasant homes as fast as they arrive. Bloomfield Citizen.
